Thesis Title	Search for Identity _A study of Selected Works in American Negro Fiction and Poetry
Year	2001
Abstract	The study selects important texts both in fiction and poetry which reveal the Black writer quest for identity which has taken different forms: social protest, return to folk culture, race pride, and mystique for blackness. In tracing the Negro quest for identity, the study provides historical as well as literary survey of Negro achievements focusing contexts most vividly respond to the premise of the study.
